FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Is Santa Real? Wake Revere™ Answers with "Two I Believe In," a Family Christmas Song with a Secret Only a Black Light Can Show

Out now. The debut album, Hell Sent Me Back, follows Friday, November 13.

November 2026 — Wake Revere™ has released "Two I Believe In," a country Christmas song for the whole family It is out now on Spotify, Apple Music, YouTube and all major platforms.

Why release a Christmas song in early November? Because we want to let you in on a secret. The song and its lyric video reveal what human eyes can't see. Listen and watch, and you'll be in on it before everyone else, with plenty of time to pass it along before Christmas morning.

The song starts with a question every parent hears sooner or later. On Christmas Eve, by a low fire, a little girl tugs on a sleeve and asks, "Is Santa real?" The answer doesn't dodge. It points to things that are real before you see them: a radio wave, a mother's love, the wind bending the trees.

> I said, honey, you can't see a radio wave
> You can't see the love that your mama gave
> But turn on a song and it fills up the room
> Some things are real before you see 'em, too

Then the song gets clever. Reindeer really can see ultraviolet light, which people can't. Every winter, their eyes even change color, from gold to blue, to see through the long Arctic dark. "Two I Believe In" turns those true facts into its answer, and lands on Saint Nicholas, the fourth-century bishop who left gifts in the night and never signed his name.

> He'd leave gifts in the night and never sign his name
> Givin' in secret for the One who came
> So here's the code I cracked tonight
> Santa's been God's helper, hidin' in plain sight

The secret goes beyond the lyrics. A word is hidden in the sweater on the cover, and only a black light shows it. In the lyric video, an ultraviolet beam sweeps across the picture to reveal it. At wakerevere.com/christmas, kids can move a black light across the picture with a finger to find it themselves. It is a small piece of Christmas magic, and a reason for families to listen together.

The lyrics are clean and made for every age.

"Two I Believe In" arrives one week before Wake Revere™'s debut album, Hell Sent Me Back, out everywhere Friday, November 13. Eight walk-out songs for people who walk in anyway.

Listen, watch and find the secret

- Spotify: https://open.spotify.com/track/4UTMopRYpfGs2unGirNGHc
- Apple Music: https://music.apple.com/us/album/two-i-believe-in-single/6831075612
- Lyric video: https://youtu.be/--PTUPg2Y6A
- Lyrics and the black light: https://wakerevere.com/christmas
- Pre-save the album: https://distrokid.com/hyperfollow/wakerevere/hell-sent-me-back-2
- Press kit and photos: https://wakerevere.com/press

About the music

Country, intelligently augmented.
AI voice and music. Human songwriter.
Nothing held back. One job: earn the second listen.

About Wake Revere™

Wake Revere™ makes country music with a heavy foot on the gas: songs about getting back up, walking in anyway, and believing in what you can't see. The debut album, Hell Sent Me Back, arrives November 13, 2026.

Media contact

Wake Revere™ · press@wakerevere.com

###

℗ & © 2026 Wake Revere™. All rights reserved.